Psalm 100:1-5

An Uplifting Recitation & More

[1] Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all ye lands.
[2] Serve the LORD with gladness: come before his presence with singing.
[3] Know ye that

the LORD he is God: it is he that
hath made us,
and not we
ourselves;
we are his
people, and the sheep of
his pasture.
4 Enter into his
gates with

thanksgiving,
and into his
courts with
praise:
be thankful
unto him, and
bless his name.
5 For the LORD
is good; his mercy is
everlasting;

and his truth endureth to all generations.

An Uplifting Recitation & More

This passage is commonly recited in church congregations.

It is inspirational and comforting. It is also a very clear pronouncement of who followers of Creator most High are, but without the exaggerated self-esteem pomp that is so prevalent in pseudo-Christian and pop culture:

We are his people and the sheep of his pasture.

We're God's people.
We belong to Him.

Though
surrounded
by potential
dangers, we are within God's personal guidance and unique protection.

More importantly, these scriptural words speak of God's worthiness of being praised.

The LORD is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endures to all generations.

Indeed, the words are uplifting, and, when analyzed, they offer depth and insight.
